Heartbreak as Dean's memorial is destroyed

DEBRA FOX

A MEMORIAL tribute left at the roadside in memory of a fatherof-two who died in a collision last year has been destroyed by vandals.

Dean Cork, of Gainsborough Road, Haverhill, died last April at the junction of Skippers Lane and Common Road, near West Wratting, following a collision between his scooter and a van

Since his death, wife Tracey, children Dexter, 21 and Billie, 18, family and friends have continued to leave flowers, photo-graphs and other tributes at the crash site. But on Father's Day, as the family arrived to leave fresh flowers, they discovered that their items had been torn down and thrown into the field near-

Dad David, 73, said: "These mindless morons found this act of vandalism the only way to draw attention to their sad selves. I am so angry."

Haverhill Circles Scooter Club took part in a mass ride out in April for St George's Day - and during their journey stopped at the scene of Dean's accident to tie his photograph to a post and pay their own respects

But on Sunday the family dis-

The family have also contacted Suffolk County Council Highways to see if they have any further information.

A spokesman for the county council said: "Our highways engineers have not removed any flowers from this site.

Round table makes £500 donation to cricket cub

HARD WORK: Greg Street, Adam Dellar, Charles Gurteen and Justin Friend.

A COMMUNITY sports club has received a £500 donation as a thank you for its work in Haverhill

The town's cricket club was given the money by Haverhill Round Table.

Justin Friend, treasurer, said: "There is a real sense of community and bringing people from all over the town together and we wanted to recognise that.

Greg Street, commercial officer at the cricket club, said the money will go towards the youth section. Costs are kept to a minimum, he added, so that evervone can join in.

Youth training is held at the cricket club every Friday from 6pm until 8pm until the end of August.

Senior matches are played every Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday. These games are free to watch, and all are

Man, 94, jailed for sex offences

A 94-vear-old Haverhill man, jailed last week for historic sex offences, is thought to be the UK's oldest jailed paedophile.

Frederick Smith, of Place Court Care Home, Camps Road, previously pleaded guilty to four counts of indecent assault and one count of inde-cency with a child under 14.

Some of the offences date back to 1972, and all took place in Haverhill until 1982.

Smith arrived at Ipswich Crown Court last Thursday for sentencing, using a walking frame and accompanied by a carer.

The court was told he began abusing his victim while he was working as a

Hugh Vass, prosecuting, said that the pensioner used "snatched the pensioner used "snatched moments" alone with his victim to indecently touch her on a weekly basis and also forced her to perform oral sex on him at a house.

Some of the abuse also took place in a rest room for bus drivers when

Smith put his hand inside the girl's underwear after a colleague briefly went outside.

Smith also told the girl that the abuse was "our little secret" and if she revealed what he had done no-one would believe her, Mr Vass added.

The victim, who is now married, said: "At the time I didn't realise what he was doing.

"I was terrified of him."

When the victim plucked up courage to confront Smith when she was a teenager, he had thrown a pair of gardens shears he was holding at her but missed, the court heard.

The abuse had had a "detrimental impact" on relationships throughout her adult life, the victim said.

Joanne Eley, mitigating, said Smith expressed considerable remorse and said he wished he could turn the clock

Miss Eley said: "He is coming to the end years of his life and he says he is a partly religious man and hopes there can be some form of forgiveness."

The court also heard that following his arrest, Smith was asked if he had committed the offence by police. He told them: "I probably did. I don't know what made me do it."

Judge David Goodin sentenced Smith to 12 months in prison. He will serve half, and be released on licence after six months.

He said: "Justice cries out that you be sent to prison for your crimes and vile as your crimes are I am in no doubt that justice would not be justice unless it is seasoned with mercy.

"You will carry the shame of your offending to the grave.

"Every hour, every day, every night it will weigh heavily on you.

Judge Goodin also said that the sentence would have been longer, if it had not been for Smith's age.

The pensioner will serve his prison time in the hospital wing of HMP Norwich

Bank's new technology is 'upsetting customers'

A LOCAL branch of a High Street bank is "upsetting" its customers with new technology, it is being claimed.

Barclays Bank, in Haverhill High Street, has installed new machines and is encouraging all customers to us them to deposit cash and cheques, instead of using counter service.

Staff are on hand to help if needed.
Andrea Dunton, of Monarch Close, says she has banked with Barclays for more than 10 years, but is now considering moving her account.

She said the change in service has angered loyal customers and is sending them into the arms of other banks.

"Because of the changes they are making we have to wait in longer queues. I can't believe as a company they have made a choice that upsets so many customers," she said.

Mrs Dunton has spoken to branch staff to voice her own and fellow customers' complaints, but has been told that the bank is "moving to the

The Haverhill staff are "friendly and helpful" but are having to "toe the company line", she added.

And in a letter to the Weekly News this week, Mr Brinkley, from Kedington, said: "Every time I am in the queue I am asked why I don't use the cash machine.

"My answer is always the same – I don't choose to and I don't mind waiting in the queue so if I have a problem I can ask the cashier but I can't talk to a machine.'

A spokesperson for Barclays said the same changes had taken place across the country and the new technology had allowed staff to have more "in-depth discussions" with customers away from the counter.

He added: "We appreciate all feedback when we make changes to our branches, as in this instance, where our staff are out from behind the traditional counter and able to serve customers more freely.

"We encourage any customers to speak with us directly to try and allay any concerns?

'My car was vandalised we need our streetlight on'

A RETIRED couple have been told the streetlight near to their home will not be turned back on after midnight -despite their car being vandalised twice. Edel Pinnock and his wife Barbara, of Coupals Road, appealed to Suffolk County Council to have one of the streetlights in their road switched on after midnight, while the others across Haverhill go off.

Despite their plea, and support from county councillors Tony Brown and Julian Flood, the request has been denied. Mr Pinnock filled out a form, designed by Cllr Flood, to get the light switched back on.

The form asks the recipient for the number of the street-light, the reason for the request and an endorsement from a town councilllor.

It also asks that nearby residents are asked for their opinion, if it is thought that their opinion is necessary.

Police officers also have to be consulted before the change can be made, regard-less of whether or not the request relates to security.

One of Mr Pinnock's wing mirrors was kicked off by vandals, and cost more than £300 to repair. He discovered the damage one morning when he was getting ready to take his wife, who is disabled, to the hairdresser. He said: "I think this has been as a result of the street-lights being off. This is just adding to anti-social behaviour and criminal damage

In the refusal letter from Suffolk County Council, Mr Pinnock was told that the police wording on the form was "a m b i g u o u s", despite the crime report being included, and did not show whether or not they supported the action to swtich the light on. Individual lights also sometimes attract crime rather than deter it, the letter added, and there was no consulta-tion with other residents in the street. Cllr Flood said that reducing the risk of crime is one of the reasons to switch a light back on - and that he will continue to work on the form until it can work in the favour of residents.

He said: "At the moment, there seems to be no simple way to do this.

'It should be for them, and it should be to resolve particular issues such as this."

Other reasons listed for switching a light back on include when a light is near to a bus stop, where there is sheltered housing and in public car parks.

Since June 11, all of the lights in Coupals Road have remained on all night - but this is only a temporary move.

spokesman for Suffolk County Council said the lights on the Chalkstone were being left on for a two-week period, at the request of the police, following some "low level crime".

He said: "Having them on assists the police in dealing with the situation and conducting enquiries.

"Incidentally, we've also been contacted by some local residents requesting the lights be switched back off."

Borough will 'review support' to towns and parishes

tions to towns and parishes across St Edmundsbury are going to be reviewed, the council has confirmed.

It was revealed last year that Haverhill was set to lose around £128,000 in funding over the next four financial

This came following a decision from St Edmundsbury Borough Council to retain the Council Tax Support Grant from central Grant from central Government, in line with their own cuts.

But Cllr John Griffiths, borough council leader, has now said that the council's finan-cial position will be reviewed next year, in order to decide what will happen in 2016/17.

He said: "Our towns and parishes, like Forest Heath and St Edmundsbury, need certainty about their future funding so last year, once it was confirmed the Government was cutting our ing by 49 per cent over two years, we decided to continue supporting our local town and parish councils, but in line with this financial reali-

This year alone, Haverhill Town Council had to save around £32,000, and will have to save an additional £32,000 in the 2015/16 financial year. But instead of the borough council sticking to the fouryear plan, which would have seen Council Tax Support gradually phased out, a review will take place when there is "more financial cer-tainty" from the government Haverhill faces a loss of £64,467 over two years, with a review at the end of those two years, for future financial years, the borough has confirmed.

Cllr Roger André, town mayor, said that the town would benefit more from full financial support this year,

He said: "The Council Tax Support Grant was allocated via the borough due to limita-tions of local authority financing protocols.

"The grant was intended for the town and reflected the impact of the change in tax base created by a change in the rules.

Cllr André also said that in the future, when there are more homes in the town, the tax base will increase and the impact on town council finances will "diminish".

Additional funding across St Edmundsbury is being provided through borough councillors' locality budgets, Cllr Griffiths added.

The review will also take place at Forest Heath District Council. Newmarket and Mildenhall will both lose more than £20,000 over the next two years.

School gets safe crossing area, after eight year wait

DEBRA FOX

A NEW safe crossing area has been put in place outside a village primary school - after being approved eight years ago.

Kedington Parish Council is celebrating success after the installation of tactile paving and yellow zig zag lines to stop vehicles parking in the road near Kedington Primary Academy.

Marion Farrant, parish clerk, said it is a relief that the crossing is at last finished.

"When you look at it on the road, you do think how has this taken eight years to get done," she said.
"But it is a relief – it is nice to have it done because parking around the school area and around the crossing site is absolutely horrendous.

It was just a matter of time before a child got seriously hurt.'

Ms Farrant said that in 2006, the parish council put forward the idea for the crossing to Suffolk County Council Highways. Following this, Highways came up with a further idea to put a path in Silver Street, Kedington. They hoped to complete both tasks at the same time, Ms Farrant said. She said: "Designs for this went backwards and forward for two years, and the village then decided they didn't want it changed."

SAFE TO CROSS: The new crossing area near Kedington Primary Academy

The hierarchy at the county council then changed, Ms Farrant said, which caused a further delay.

She and Cllr Tony Brown, who represents Haverhill East Kedington, then met with Cllr

Graham Newman, cabinet member for roads, transport and planning, to move the plan forward. Cllr Brown said: "When I was elected I met with Marion to discuss different issues that the village had been fighting for - this was one of the main things."

Ms Farrant also said that the village will continue working with the county council to combat parking

Nuisance house is police priority

DEBRA FOX

SAFER Neighbourhood Team officers will spend the next three months dealing with anti-social behaviour on a Haverhill street.

Members of the public voted at Monday's SNT meeting to select new policing priorities – and one of them is focused around problems in Ashlea Close.

Residents living in the road raised their concerns about the tenants of a "multi-occu-pancy rented house" in the street and the disruption being caused.

One said: "These people are causing so much upset."
Complaints included loud music being played during

Three new policing priorities have been chosen for the next quarter the night, and using bad lan-guage towards neighbours – one woman also said they had once waited 20 minutes after calling the police.

Acting sergeant Mark Ellis said police were aware of the problems – but as yet the ten-ants had not committed a criminal offence. He said: "We have no power to ask someone to turn their music down in a private place - at the moment they have not committed any criminal act for us to arrest them."

Dealing with anti-social behaviour in Ashlea Close was the third priority voted in, with 20 votes

Officers have been working on illegal drug taking in Castle Walk and the recreation ground, parking issues at local schools and gathering intelligence on drug-related assaults on the Clements and Chalkstone Estates since the last meeting in March.

More than 50 additional patrols took place to identify drugs crime, 69 patrols took place outside schools and eight positive drugs warrants were executed.

2 Foot patrols 3 Tackling drugs

MORE than 20 people have voted for more foot patrols to take place across Haverhill following a spate of residential burglaries.

This was chosen as the town's second most popular policing priority for the upcoming three months, at Monday's Safer Neighbourhood Team (SNT) meeting.

At the meeting, Inspector Peter Ferrie told that domestic burglary in Haverhill has doubled this year in line with the three year average. There have been 16 reported incidents of domestic burglary in the town between April 1 and June 8. TACKLING drugs crime in Haverhill has once again topped the charts at the latest Safer Neighbourhood Team meeting.

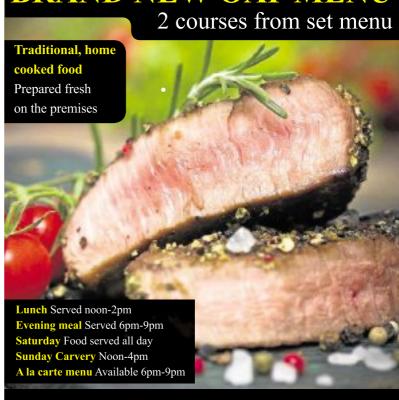

More than 30 votes were cast for officers to focus on drugs crime in the town – especially in Wortham Place, Aeroplane Park on the Chalkstone Estate, the recreation ground and playground areas

Drugs crime is also higher this year in comparison to the three year average. There have been 23 recorded offences since April 1. Twelve is the aver-

Other priorities which made it into the final nine included dog fouling and littering in open spaces, cycling on pavements and in the High Street and anti-social heaviour on the recreation ground.

Firstly, why does he tar all councillors with the same brush and insultingly call us buffoons? We on the Town Council get absolutely no payment for what we do; we regard it as voluntary community work for the good of the people of Haverhill. medic, can I help you? We all wondered what this talk would be about but Mr Jones told us all about the humorous calls he has had over his long career. He also told us about hoax calls made by the general public but they have had to attend.

He has also published a book of poems. A very good speaker, and it is hoped he will visit again.

The next meeting is on June 24.
The speaker will be Marie Carden and her subject will be dogs for the disabled. We meet at the West End Hall, on Withersfield Road, on the fourth Tuesday of every month.

Visitors and new members are always welcome to this friendly group. Contact chairman Mrs Hampson on 01440 714730.

June is always a busy time in the life of Kedington WI.

We began the month with our regular meeting, hearing from Andy Kendrick, one of Kedington's residents, about the trips he has organised with school children, wherever he was working. These cultural awareness trips - whether building houses, clearing litter on beaches or teaching English, for those in those parts of the world less fortunate, have benefitted the young people giving them a greater sense of the global village, and how they can influence one life to change the world.

Our village fete, 'Meadowlark', Our village lete, Meadowiark, followed hot on the heels of this, with the WI entering the 'Walking Pageant' themed 'Planes Trains and Automobiles' – What else could we be but 'Trolley Dollies'! For this we won the shield for the adult entries, and our regular contribution (teas and cakes) had a bumper year, contributing to the upkeep of the community centre.

should be digging our heels in and asking for a community hospital with a maternity unit attached as that is what our growing town needs. The new chief of the NHS Mr Simon Stevens has recently stated that he backs more local hospitals and he signalled a marked change in policy by calling for a shift away from big centralised hospitals. He also stated a number of other countries have found it possible to run local viable hospitals serving smaller communities than sometimes we think are sustainable in the NHS.

The population of Haverhill is growing; we are now in the region of a population of some 27.000.

The West Suffolk Hospital (WSH) in Bury St Edmunds was moved to its current site in 1973 when the population there was in the region of 26,0000.

We recently saw a planning approval which involved development for 1,150 housing units, we also have the North-East Haverhill concept of 2,500 housing units envisaged. New homes invariably means new babies, along with our current expectant mothers and those currently planning to have children.

Haverhill needs a community hospital with a maternity unit attached and those involved with the health needs of our community along with our MF Matthew Hancock should be pushing for this at the highest levels and not accepting just the tit-bits just to try and keep us quiet.

Sadness hard to bear

EVERY now and then an impact on our heart strings comes about. Arran's story did just that – an overwhelming desire to cry at the unexpected death of a teenager who's smiling face spoke a thousand words.

Staring at the vibrant eyes, brimming with life, reflecting the obvious embrace of his journey in this world so far, from the news page that wrote of Arran's last few days. Kind and gentle marks within his smile show the natural love for all he was gifted to bring to those who knew him. Contracted talent for a future in the performing arts, as no doubt his musical magic would have brought him to grander Clownish years of teenage-hood, born from a family of devotion... to be so mystically taken from the arms of his mum and dad by mother earth must be very hard to bear. I didn't know Arran but my daughter did; I knew of his happy, cheeky ways. Fruitful youth would have grown into a lovely man, with soul-building goodness and a charitable heart.

For most of us, our ambitions and dreams we can fulfill, and our cup in time is full. Arran had began his but maybe, just maybe, he has a cup filled with such innocence and purity that's untainted by the slings and arrows of life, that his is the crystal clear water of honesty and he will be forever preserved as a wonderful young man.

Touched deeply by his sudden departure, I write these words to a family who had such a gracious boy, and although bewildered by unjust they will have a legacy of memories to fill their void to be able to reason with the unreasonable and possibly by listening to the sounds of the Universe, hear the voice of what must be their

CALLING ALL PROUD MUMS, A TIME TO CELEBRATE

Can you help with jumble?

BOOKS, toys, cakes and clothes will be some of the items on sale at a giant jumble sale on Saturday.

The sale, run by Helen Baker and Mary Argent, of Haverhill Arts Centre, is raising money for St Nicholas Hospice Care.

Starting at 10.30am, the sale will be followed by a comedy night with Alun Cochrane in the evening.

Helen and Mary have also taken part in the MoonWalk this year, and on Sunday will be running the Race

Colin Poole, Haverhill's new town clerk, said: "The town council is delighted to support the fantastic fundraising efforts of its staff for a great cause – you never know what might be at a jumble sale."

Tickets for the St Nicholas Hospice comedy night are £9. To get yours, contact the Arts Centre on 01440 714140 or visit haverhillartscentre. co.uk. The show starts at 9pm.

Warning after pet cat is shot

DEBRA FOX

A COUPLE are urging pet owners to keep their animals safe after their one-year-old cat was shot.

The Haverhill couple, who do not want to be named but live in Raine Avenue, rushed their tortoiseshell cat

Daisy to the vet on Monday.

The woman, who is 26, told the Weekly News that she and her boyfriend let their cat outside at about

She said: "She came back about 15 minutes later; she was howling and there was blood all over her.

Daisy was immediately X-rayed at the vet, and the couple were told there was an air rifle pellet lodged in her body, just above one of her legs.

"The vet said it looked like she had been shot at close range," the woman said. "And the angle looked like some-one had shot at her through a win-

Survey into GP services is extended until next month

A SURVEY about GP surgeries in Haverhill has been extended.

Patients are being encouraged by Healthwatch Suffolk to share their experiences of visiting practices in the town, in order to improve the service.

You can share your views on your local surgery until midday on July 4. The survey was previously set to finish at the end of Annie Topping, chief executive of Healthwatch Suffolk, said: "Our role, as the consumer champion is to work with the GP practices in the area to ensure that they are listening and that services are delivered with patients at their heart.

"We therefore urge people to share their views with us by completing our survey, it only takes a few moments but can make a big difference to the running of the services now and in the future."

Have you signed the Haverhill petition?

CAMPAIGNERS have now collected more than the 2,500 signatures needed for their petition.

Launched in February by the Haverhill and Kedington Labour Group, a petition asking for Haverhill's share of Council Tax Support Grant to be restored has gathered support from across the town.

The group now hopes that the petition can be presented to St Edmundsbury Borough Council's next meeting.

Last year, the borough council ruled to retain the Council Tax Support Grant, provided to them by central government.

All parishes in St Edmundsbury are facing cuts over this, and the next three, financial years. Haverhill will lose £129,000

Green light for park's new hub

A NEW business hub is going to be built at Haverhill Research Park.

Plans for a four-storey innovation centre at the centre of the park were entered by Carisbrooke in January and have now been approved by St Edmundsbury Borough Council.

The centre, which will cost around £5 million, will include conference and meeting rooms, training facilities, a room for shared working and a cafe.

Businesses using the hub will also benefit from company support designed to boost business growth, business advice, broadband internet access and networking facilities, Nic Rumsey, owner of Carisbrooke, said.

Mr Rumsey said: "The planning permission is very good news. We have worked closely with the council planning officers to bring this consent to fruition and much appreciate the positive support we have been given by St Edmundsbury Borough Council.

"We are continuing to work up the design and expect to go out to tender by the end of June with a view to getting contractor proposals in during August

It is hoped that the building, which will be called The Epicentre, will be finished by September next vear.

Finance is expected to come from the New Anglia and the Greater Cambridgeshire & Peterborough Local Enterprise Partnerships Enterprise Partnerships (LEPS), who have both submitted funding to the £100 million research park.

The Epicentre will also have photovoltaic panels on the roof to provide a source of renewable energy for the centre, bicycle racks, showers and changing rooms – for those keen to cycle to work.

A virtual innovation centre. connected to the hub, has already been launched. Businesses have already been encouraged to sign up for the use of an innovation centre address and domain. Participating businesses will also get post handling and a reduced rate on conference rooms and meeting space at the Days Inn Hotel, also owned by Mr Rumsey. Free Wi-Fi will also be avail-

ble for virtual office tenants

The new address will be The Epicentre, Haverhill Research Park Three Counties Way, Haverhill, Suffolk, CB9 7FB.

Live Well Suffolk: stay safe in the sun

NEW research suggests that sun cream is not enough to protect from skin cancer.

Live Well Suffolk is urging people to stay hydrated and stay in the shade as much as possible, following new information released by Cancer Research UK.

The organisation is also calling for people to avoid the sun between 11am and 3pm, and cover up with T-shirts and sun glasses.

Steven Lee-Foster, director of Live Well Suffolk, said: "Although most people are good at remembering to protect themselves from the sun while they are abroad, they often forget to do the same when they are spending time in the garden at home

"Already this year we've experienced lots of lovely warm weather and it is important people make sure they are adequately protected.

"When the sun is at its strongest, just wearing sun cream is unlikely to offer enough protection from UV

A NEW strategy to deal with alcohol consumption in Suffolk has been released by Suffolk County Council.

Main aims include establishing safe and sensible drinking as the norm, improving the health of problem drinkers and reducing alcohol-related crime and anti-social behaviour.

An estimated 182,000 working days are lost each year in Suffolk due to drinking, and more than 3,000 people go in with a hangover daily.

With so much innovation taking place in the city, what really stands out as really rather special?

Cambridge News is looking to find the best innovations to have gone public in the last 12 months.

Culminating in an awards reception on September 17 at Clare College, the prize for the top innovation could go to any firm in genres including technical, medical, digital and many others.

The nominations will be put before an expert panel of judges, who will have the difficult task to decide who the top five are.

Nursery's expansion plans are approved

A NURSERY, which was voted as Haverhill's most-loved business this year, has been given the green light to expand.

Dizzy's Day Nursery, on Hollands Road, has been granted planning permission to create new facilities in an adjoining factory unit.

The nursery, which caters for 150 families in and around Haverhill, will now provide more space for children to enjoy "all weather" play and sporting activities.

An office and storage area for staff will also be built inside the newly-leased building.

Dizzy's, which opened 12 years ago, has a team of 30 staff and can cater for 96 chil-

It is also hoped that a new courtyard garden will be accessible from the building.

Staff plan to use this space to add to the nursery's vegetable garden, and provide more gardening and outdoor fun for the children

Dizzy's caters for babies and children up to age 11.

Newmarket Nights are back for another season of betting, sunburn and excellent live music. ELLA WALKER catches up with two of the stars of the launch show, 80s Here and Now T'Pau's Carol Decker and Eddie Amoo from The Real Thing

START backcombing your hair now, Bananarama are back! Well, two are at least and not just them: T'Pau, The Real Thing, Curiosity Killed the Cat and Kid Creole and The Coconuts.

Cat and Kid Creole and The Coconuts.

These classic 80s acts have the job of getting Newmarket Nights' summer season off to a raucous start, presumably in a cloud of Harmony hairspray.

The 80s Here and Now extravaganza will see some fluttering on the horses followed by a slew of era-defining chart-toppers, namely China In Your Hand (T'Pau), Love In The First Degree (Bananarama), You to Me Are Everything (The Real Thing), Annie, I'm Not Your Daddy (Kid Creole) and Down To Earth (Curiosity Killed The Liverpool soul legends The Real Thing started out in the 1970s and had some very high-profile fans (Michael Jackson and The Beatles). Endlessly enthusiastic vocalist and guitarist Eddie Amoo has lost none of his passion for the business. So why should people come along and see your section in the show?

"For absolute brilliance! They're gonna get the classics and they're gonna get a real party. It's a really out-there show that we do. We draw people in and that's one of the reasons we've survived so long. We've been together forever!"

survived so long. We've been together forever! Forming in Shropshire in the late 80s and fronted by the fiery Carol Decker, T'Pau took their name from a Star Trek Vulcan elder like Heart and Soul and Valentine. Although they concert. I won't play new material on this particular occasion but I'm going out on tour in October and I'll be premiering new stuff then.

Dial M for Murder

WRITTEN by English playwright Frederick Knott in 1952, Dial M for Murder is a mystery of murder plots gone awry blackmail and pocket-hopping latchkeys.

Famously turned into a film by Alfred Hitchcock starring Grace Kelly as Margot (wife, victim and adulteress), and Ray Milland as Tony (husband, cuckold and conspirator), it packs a thrilling punch, churning with fear, betrayal and

The play premiered in 1952 on BBC television, before being performed on the stage in the same year in London's West End in June and then New York's Broadway in October.

And this week it's at the Cambridge Arts Theatre.

TV veteran Christopher Timothy plays sleuth Inspector Hubbard on the hunt for the truth, so be prepared to be riled, spooked and suitably freaked out. No shrieking in the theatre, mind.

 Dial M for Murder, Cambridge Arts Theatre, until Saturday, June 21 at 7.45pm. Tickets £15-£30 from (01223) 503333 or cambridgeartstheatre.purchasetickets-online.co.uk.

■ The Haverhill Festival continues with the chance to watch the World Cup action in style, live on the big screen for free! Today at 8pm sees the ENGLAND v URUGUAY match and then on Tuesday at 5pm ENGLAND v COSTA RICA. Come on England, you can do it! The bar will be open for refreshments.

■ We have two events on Saturday with proceeds going to St Nicholas Hospice. Join Mary and Helen for their GIANT JUMBLE SALE from 10am to 2pm. You can get a bargain and know you are helping the Hospice funds.
The TOP COMEDY NIGHT starts at 8pm with Alun Cochrane delivering his own brand of no-nonsense humour. He has made appearances on Michael McIntyre's Comedy Roadshow, Just a Minute, Have I Got News For You, Mock the Week and Never Mind The Buzzcocks. With MC John Murfin and support from top circuit comedians, this promises to be a cracker of a night, make sure you don't miss out! Please note line-up is subject to change

■ THE MAGIC AND MIRTH OF TOMMY COOPER on Sunday, starring Magic Circle member Clive Greenaway as Tommy Cooper, gives an affectionate look at one of Britain's best loved comics. This warm tribute is comics. Inis warm tribute is brimming with Tommy's favourite anecdotes and loveable gags – and you can find out what did happen to Tommy's last fez! Of course it wouldn't be Tommy without marie and as an accomplished magic and as an accomplished comedy magician in his own right, Clive performs the awesome

film of the week

THE FAULT IN OUR STARS (12A, 126 mins) ONLY a frozen heart could be unmoved as E.T. bids farewell to Elliot, Bambi cries forlornly in the forest for his fallen mother or Carl falls in love with Ellie in the opening sequence to Pixar's Up. The Fault In Our Stars will offer a stern test to the waterproof mascara of every teenager who fell in love with John Green's bestselling novel.

Josh Boone's polished adaptation deftly plucks heartstrings to the point that a trickle of saltwater tears threatens to become an unstoppable torrent.

One tissue simply doesn't suffice as scriptwriters Scott Neustadter and Michael H Weber navigate the tricky topic of terminal illness with wry humour and contificity. and sensitivity.

The film is blessed with a tour-deforce central performance from Shailene Woodley as a young cancer patient, who experiences the exquisite agony of first love just when it seems she has given up

The 22-year-old Californian actress doesn't hit a single false emotional note as her protagonist wrestles with guilt and mortality, catalysing smouldering screen chemistry with co-star Ansel Elgort.

Woodley plays 16-year-old Hazel Grace Lancaster, who was diagnosed with cancer at an early age and almost slipped away in hospital.

An experimental drug trial has halted the spread of the disease but Hazel is resigned to her grim fate.

"Depression's not a side effect of cancer," she explains in voiceover, "it's a side effect of dying, which is what's happening to me

The teenager reluctantly attends a cancer patients' support group at the behest of her mom (Laura Dern).

During one session, Grace meets acerbic survivor Gus (Elgort), who lost his leg to halt the spread of his cancer.

He is attending the meeting to support best friend Isaac (Nat Wolff). Grace and Gus's shared disdain for convention kindles friendship.

As the relationship intensifies, Hazel attempts to keep Gus at arm's length, warning that she "is a grenade", destined to obliterate everyone around her.

"It would be a privilege to have my heart broken by you," he counters tenderly

The Fault In Our Stars is a beautifully sketched portrait of adolescence, anchored by emotionally raw performances from the talented cast. Dern impresses as a parent braced for the anguish of burying her child, while Willem Dafoe injects spikiness to the role of Hazel's favourite author, who doesn't welcome fans with open arms.

Director Boone makes a couple of missteps, including a crudely engineered scene at Anne Frank's House in Amsterdam which feels wholly inappropriate.

However, once our tear ducts start leaking, we forgive him and the script an occasional faux pas.

Heaven scent

WHEN I open my patio doors and breathe in the delicious scent of my neighbour's mock orange, with its pretty white flowers cascading conveniently over my garden fence, I know that summer is really here.

The delicious smell of this flowering shrub may only last a couple of weeks but for me it's one of the most memorable events of summer and there are varieties to suit most gardens, from the golden mock orange Philadelphus coronarius 'Aureus', which can be used to light up the back of a mixed border, to the more compact P. 'Manteau d'Hermine', which grows to just 75cm (30in), bearing masses of heady cream flowers and ideally planted next to a seating area in a sheltered spot where people can enjoy its scent to the full.

Of course, on the patio you are spoiled for choice with scented plants. Those which will grow happily in containers include night-scented stocks, clove-scented pinks and scented pelargoniums in the Fragrans Group, which have leaves with the aroma of lemon, orange and mint.

Herbs too will provide you with scent as well as flavour, including lemon verbena, Eau de Cologne mint (Mentha x piperita f. citrata), lemon thyme and fragrant rosemary. All these need to be touched to release their fragrance.

Sweet peas, pictured, will also grow happily in a pot, trained up a wigwam, to give you not only fragrance but plenty of colour as well. Cut the flowers regularly

by Hannah Stephenson

and put a bunch on your patio table or even indoors if you want the scent inside as well. Cutting is essential with sweet peas if you want more flowers to appear throughout the season, as, if you don't cut them, the flowers will form bean-like pods, which send a message to the plant that flowering is over.

If you're after low-maintenance scent, pots of lavender will provide you with plenty of fragrance as well as attracting bees, and just need shearing to keep neat immediately after flowering. However, keep heavier scents such as lavender separate from other scented plants as otherwise it will dominate the group.

Plants whose scents will blend together beautifully in the border include lilies, phlox, sweet Williams, nicotiana (tobacco plant), sweet peas and nepeta (catmint). For optimum fragrance, go for old-fashioned varieties of nicotiana, such as N. alata, which folds up its petals during the day and comes to life only at night. Modern dwarf varieties may look better but they don't have as much scent.

Similarly, I prefer old-fashioned roses which are in a bed, as I've never found that patio roses give as much scent-wise Among my favourite roses for the border is the David Austin English shrub rose, Rosa Gertrude Jekyll', which bears stunning large, rosette-shaped pink flowers and has an outstanding perfume, as well as strong stems and a neat, compact shape with flowers produced throughout summer. It can be grown as a climber, reaching a height of around 8ft, and will do well combined with clematis.

Of course, there's also a plethora of scented climbers which are ideal for positioning near a door or pathway, or close to opening windows where their fragrance can be enjoyed from inside too.

Obvious choices include scented honeysuckles, climbing roses and common white jasmine (Jasminum officinale), which can reach 8m (26ft) and produces clusters of simple, white trumpet-shaped flowers from early summer to autumn if planted in well-drained soil in a warm, sheltered spot, ideally on a south-facing wall.
With just some of these choices, hopefully you'll be able to fling open your patio doors and inhale the scent of summer, day or night, come rain or shine.

Two Counties, two wheels lined up for Rowley Mile

MORE details have been released by the organisers of the 2014 Lions' Two Counties Motor Show, to be held at Newmarket Racecourse on Sunday,

As well as a phenomenal line-up of both brand new and classic, vintage cars, motorbike exhibitors have out-done themselves too and released an equally spectacular schedule which is bound to have enthusiasts drooling!

Among the dealers due to be exhibiting at the show in June are: Haywards of Cambridge, whose will

- Royal Enfield Continental GT, priced at £5,000. Super-smooth 535cc single cylinder engine, with Brembo brakes providing plenty of stopping power, while its authentic café-racer looks attracted much attention on the streets of Cambridge – both from youngsters and those who remember the original motorcycle from the 1950s and 60s
- HMC Mutt in its exhibition premiere. Hailing from the Huntingdon HQ, this British bike is the first off the production line, has a 125cc Suzuki engine, and was best 125cc runner-up
- at Motorcycle News.

 Yamaha Delight, a beautifully styled and affordable commuter, with a quiet and economical 114cc 4-stroke engine.
- The enormously popular electric bicycle, Batribike. It has a range of around 60 miles, and is priced at an affordable £900
- Several models of Moto Guzzi will

Abarth 500 range gets astonishing re-boot

NEW colours, greater technology and a host of other changes feature in the latest range of Abarth 500 cars for 2014/15

The new range is launched this week in the wake of the hugely successful partnership of the Gumball 3000 supercar event, which visited Edinburgh and London recently as part of an international

It was the first time British crowds had seen the 190hp biposto on the road. The "most Abarth of all Abarths" has a top speed of 143mph and accelerates from 0-62mph in just 5.9 seconds. It features a special "Grey Performance" paint colour, front, rear and roof spoilers, a Brembo braking system and can be specified with options such as a "Dog Ring" gearbox, lightweight aluminium bonnet, carbon fibre detailing and 4-point racing seatbelts

The 595 Turismo is powered by a 160hp version of Abarth's 1.4-litre turbocharged T-Jet engine and gets leather sports seats plus 17-inch 10-spoke diamond cut alloys. A similar engine powers the 595 Competitizione, with its dual mode 'Record Monza' exhaust system, perforated front and rear disc brakes and aluminium pedal kit and footrest.

Just 299 of the Abarth 595 50th Anniversario (Anniversary Edition) will be produced.

A total of 17 body colours are now available across the new range in solid, metallic, tri-coat and bi-colour finishes. The Abarth 500 range starts at £14,560 for the 1.4 T-Jet 135hp (manual), rising to £32,990 for the 695 biposto 1.4 T-Jet 190hp.

Sales PHEV up at Duxford

"IT'S like a checkout at Tesco's here, I've never known anything like it," said chairman David Bentinck of Duxford Motor Group when I called him yesterday after-noon, writes Mike Scialom. "We've never ever been so busy, and I've been here 35 years."

Crikey. What's going on?

"The recession is over and once a recession ends people go out and start buying and we happen to have the range people want," David explained."As you know we've got the plug-in bybrid but the other models in the range are brilliant – right down to the little Mirages, especially the automatic which is smoother than a Bentley."
And cheaper, of course. So what's marching out the door?
"80 per cent is Mitsubishi and the other 20 per cent is Citroen.

It's great to hear such hearten-ing stories of sales success, and indeed Duxford Motor Group has put a lot of effort into the launch of the Mitsubishi Outlander PHEV recently, so I had a chat with sales executive Alex Dunn about the phenomenal interest in the 148mpg plug-in hybrid SUV which is taking the sector forward in leaps and strides (without running out of power too, thanks to a 2.0-litre petrol unit which switches between two electric motors according to circumstances).

"It's fantastic – this car has brought everyone to our door," said Alex of the Outlander PHEV. "In the course of the two-day

PH-WOOR: The Mitsubishi Outlander PHEV is generating huge interest launch last weekend we did 23 test drives and many were rebooked because we couldn't see them on the day – a good 40 or 50 people that wanted to test the

And what specifically is generating that level of interest?

"It's a groundbreaking car," Alex said. "The main thing is the real-world mpg, the savings via the economy, and the battery power – it'll do 72mph on battery power alone. We've got a jump on the competition which hasn't come close and the PHEV is the same price as the 2.2-litre diesel option so it's winning on all counts – and then there's the tax savings of you're an employee or an employ-

Which means what?

"100 per cent write-down in first year, which is a first for employers, and if you're an employee it's 5 per cent Benefit in Kind which is astonishing. This is one of very few vehicles which is congestioncharge free and it's not a little car, it's a five-seater four-wheel drive vehicle, so it ticks so many boxes for people who perhaps wouldn't have come to our door before – fans of all the big brands are coming to see us. It's a tough car too rock-solid and super-reliable."

Call Duxford Motor Group on (01223) 832412 – PHEV prices start at £28,250 which includes the £5,000 Government grant. Precisely the same price as the 2.2-litre diesel, just like Alex says.

SPEED LIMITS: It's all about appropriateness

Swift gets Swifter

THE Swift is one of Suzuki's world strategic models and makes strong statements in styling, impact safety, driving performance, handling as well as offering low fuel consumption and low CO2 emissions.

The powertrain is a Euro 5 compliant 1.2 litre engine incorporating Dual VVT (Variable intake and exhaust Valve Timing) that produces 94PS at 6,000rpm with a torque figure of 118Nm at 4,800rpm. Swift is highly fuel efficient offering 56.5mpg on the EC combined cycle for the manual transmission model with 2WD. CO2 emissions are also one of the lowest in its class producing just 116g/km on the combined cycle (manual transmission transmission).

Due to less than 10 per cent uptake of the 1.3-litre DDiS model, Suzuki has taken the decision to discontinue this model from the

So the Swift is available in four clearly defined specification grades, SZ2, SZ3, SZ4 and Sport with 1.6-litre engine. The engine's high output is combined with excellent fuel economy of 44.1mpg on the Combined EC Cycle and CO2 emissions are 147g/km. Seven airbags and ESP are standard Pricing for the revised Swift range start at £8,999 for the 3-door 1.2 SZ2 manual and peak at £16,439 for the 5-door 1.6-litre Sport.

Tappin toughs it out

JACK Tappin took on his toughest challenge to date when he competed in what is reputedly the world's hardest Ironman 70.3 triathlon.

The event at Wimbleball Lake in Brompton Regis often adds 45 minutes or more to the times of elite athletes, which is why it has such a fearsome reputation amongst the 56 Ironman 70.3 events.

This is due to the two-lap cycle route climbing a total of 13,498ft, with the steepest hills rising by over 1,000ft.

The half marathon that followed included 6,033ft of ascent.

The route added over an hour 10 to my personal-best time for this distance," said Tappin, who has achieved his ambitions for the year. "Only 0.0025 per cent of the world's population will complete an Ironman 70.3 so it feels good to be among that group.

"I've done all my middle-distance triathlons for this year and completed my goals of doing a subsix hour middledistance tri and Ironman.

"I will now analyse what I want to do next year and if I'll be ready to step up to full Ironman distance.

Tappin completed the course in a time of 7hr 4min 32sec to finish 881st out of 1,738 competitors.

He completed the 1.2 mile swim in 41min 37sec and then the gruelling 56-mile cycle in 3hr 53sec. He finished with the 13.1mile run in 2.14.50.

Le Mans win

BEN Barker is targeting next year's 24 Hour event after winning the Porsche Carrera Cup race at Le Mans' Circuit de la Sarthe.

The Haverhill-based driver did not put a foot wrong throughout the 45-minute race and took a dramatic win on the final lap when pole-sitter and race leader Kevin Estre suffered a tyre blow-out

"Hopefully I'll be back here next year for the next one," he said.
"I've got to talk to some people

"I got handed a few positions, but maybe that was because I was smooth and consistent.

"It felt insane on the podium. It is probably the most famous podium in the world and to stand above the pit lane on the top step was great.

Barker qualified in fourth, but after a close battle with Tom Dillmann he made his move and slipped into third on the second lap. From then on it was a case of staying out of trouble as he hunted down Estre and secondplaced Earl Bamber.

Bamber suffered a blow-out along the Mulsanne straight, moving Barker up to second.
And, in the final lap, Estre's problems meant he took the win. "It was a consistent drive and I made no mistakes," he said.

"The track is just incredible and good preparation for a hopeful win in the 24 Hours next year.
